

Where is the wallet?

Jimmy is resting on the sofa at home on Sunday morning. He is at home. He is hungry. He wants to go to the big fast-food shop to have afternoon tea.

~~to~~ the cashier. When Jimmy goes to the fast-food shop, he asks, 'May I have an apple pie and a big packet of chips, please? How much are they?' The cashier says, 'They are fourteen dollars.' Jimmy is as happy as a lark.

Soon, he is finding his small wallet, but he forgets to bring it. He is scared and nervous. He needs to go back to home.

When Jimmy goes back to the ^{big} fast-food shop, he immediately buys an apple pie and a big packet of chips. He learns to check his things when he goes out.
